You can help wikipedia expanding.vte recovered from " with the government deciding to suspend all preparative work for the population census 2021 programmed For 8-22 June, it is uncertain when the census will be conducted as the Covid-19 pandemic continues to create havoc in the country. Parbat Gurung, Minister of Communication and Information Technology, said a meeting of the Office on Sunday decided to stop all the work related to the census due to the pandemic of Covid-19 ongoing. "Another decision will be taken if we want to drive the census 2021" said Gurung to the post on Monday. Employed in the central Bureau of Statistics, which perform the census, say that establishing a new date for the census will depend on when the situation normalizes and the blockages are raised and if the current situation prolongs, It will be difficult to perform the census at least for a year. "We have recruit supervisors and enumerators for a short period. So there's a question about whether we can keep your services over the contract deadline," Nanda Lal Sapokta said statistically. "If we have to recruit new supervisors and enumerators, we have to prepare materials of formation and to make necessary acquisitions that are time-consuming. However, Nebin Lal Shrestha, Bureau Director General said that Bureau was intended to conduct the census in 2078 BS (in mid-April 2022), even if a few months in CADEM due to the worries related to the pandemic. Before the last decision of the Office to stop the preparatory work for the census, Bureau completed training for coaches and providing training to supervisors - those who must supervise the work of the enumerators. The enumerators should be trained as of June 3 before starting the population count as of June 8. The table has already named 39,000 enumerators and 8,000 supervisors for the Census 2021. Under the population census, there are two main tasks - listing of families and the main population census. The Bureau planned to send the supervisors to the field from May 9 to the listing of households and they should arrive at all families and find how many houses, families and family are in each family. The listing task, scheduled to be performed until May 28, should also give an approximate estimate of the population that will help Bureau divide the responsibilities of each enumerator during the main population count. According to the table, the listing also gives a picture on the domiciles involved in agriculture and helping the table leading a treated census that the table drives six months after the census of the population every 10 years.Shrestha said That with the government's decision, the task of domestic listing would be affected. "" They say the list of families, we can not drive the main censive, " Shrestha. 2021 "So we want to drive lead The listing of families in the current fiscal year. To this end, blockages must end and situations must standardize to a large extent. At the beginning, in 1951, the population census was postponed for one year after the introduction of democracy in 1950, abolishing Rana Autocratic rule, according to Bureau. In that time, the census was conducted from 1952-1954. Before the last decision of office, Bureau recommended postponement of preparatory works. According to Hem Raj Regmi, Deputy Director General on the Bureau, his office recommended by postponing the activities in progress for now in gravely affected areas of the pandemic and places where blocking and other prohibitive orders were placed in place. CUVD-19 Cases have been increased in the last few weeks, although the country reports less than 100 cases most of the days in March. On Monday, the Ministry of Saude and the population reported new daily infections of 7,388, breaking the record of the previous day of 7,137 infections.Nepal led by the last time his census in 2011, when the population of the country was in 26.5 million. Projections suggest that the population could now have increased to about 30 million. The Central Bureau of Statistics said that this census would be the most comprehensive of all time, with enumerators asking for details of the families as well about livestock, domestic amenities and community infrastructure.Moreover, instead of using a Method of sampling to infer larger tendencies in the population, the Bureau has plans to achieve all domiciles and collect data directly, thus creating a clearer image. The table has conducted a decenal population census since 1911. However, the first modern population census of Nepal was held in 1952-54 and told a population of more than 8 million. Census information has been widely used for various purposes, but especially in the planning and formulation of development policies. The constitution of Nepal also mentioned the importance of the census data.
